THE TRIAL OF JERE DUNN.

For Killing Jim Elliott, the Pugilist—Criminating Testimony.

CHICAGO, May 11.—In the trial of Jere Dunn for killing Jim Elliott, the prize-fighter, to-day, T. A. Smith, a law student, testified that he was in the Tivoli at the time of the tragedy; saw Dunn enter, raise his hand and fire a pistol, then heard seven or eight shots. His testimony corroborated the two preceding witnesses in the main essentials.

B. M. Whiteman was in the rear room, and was sitting at the south side of a table, looking east; saw Elliott and Plaisted come in, and sit at the first table south of him; Langdon, the proprietor, came in and conversed with them. Witness saw Jere Dunn come in; he walked rapidly down the passage way, and when near the stove

DREW A REVOLVER.

Advanced a step, took aim at Elliott, who was leaning back in his chair, and fired two shots. "I should say," said the witness, "that he took deliberate aim." Witness saw Elliott raise his chair and then tried to escape from the room. He heard four more shots fired and when he next saw Elliott he was lying on the floor and Dunn was standing near the cashier's desk. Dunn referred to Elliott with an oath and remarked, "I have got it down on him now."

Addison Davis, a colored waiter at the Tivoli, saw Dunn enter the place; heard a shot fired and turned around; saw Elliott rise from his chair. Dunn then

FIRED TWO SHOTS

And retreated into the rear room; the men then grappled, and when they arose from the floor both had revolvers.

William Langdon, otherwise known as "Appetite Bill," had conscientious scruples about being sworn and affirmed to his testimony. He said he was the owner of the Tivoli and knew both Dunn and Elliott; had a conversation with Dunn, February 13, in regard to Elliott, when Dunn said Elliott was a coward and afraid to meet Sullivan; Dunn also called Elliott a cur and used like terms; in a subsequent conversation Dunn said: "If ever I meet Elliott again I will cook him;" this was the day after Dunn had

KEPT OUT OF CLARON'S SALOON

For fear of Elliott; witness told Dunn that Elliott was a powerful man, and dangerous to fight with; "It's no matter," said Dunn, "he is near-sighted, and if he gets a ball in his belly he will run like a dog; I have got the best of it." Witness was in a private room, about twelve feet from where Elliott was sitting, the night of the tragedy; witness heard pistol shots, and when he opened the door saw Dunn retreating and Elliott advancing toward him; there was nothing in Elliott's hands; when witness got into the front room Elliott lay on the floor, and officers had arrested Dunn.

By agreement of counsel court will adjourn at 1 o'clock to-morrow afternoon until Monday.

TELLER TO BREWSTER.

He Recommends that Suit be Instituted Against the Union Pacific Company

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Secretary Teller addressed the following letter to the attorney-general, recommending the institution of judicial proceedings against the Union Pacific Railway Company, to determine the true meaning of the "net earnings of the company" clause of the Thurman act:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, May 10.

Hon. Attorney General of the United States—Sir: I have the honor to transmit herewith a copy of letters addressed to me the 16th ultimo and 8th inst., respectively, by the commissioner of railroads, and exhibits accompanying, relating to moneys due the United States by the Union Pacific Railroad Company. The commissioner recommends that his letters and exhibits be transmitted to you to be considered with his letters and exhibits of the 2d of February last, for the institution of legal proceedings to obtain judgment against the said company for whatever sum may be found due the United States, and for judicial determination of what are the "net earnings" within the meaning of the act of the 17th of May, 1878. He finds the sum of $825,905 to be due the United States from said company for the year ending December 31, 1881. This, added to the sum due December 31, 1881, ($901,827) makes a total of $1,727,742 due the United States on the 31st of December, 1881. Before transmitting to you the papers herewith I deem it proper to make a formal demand on the president of said company for said sum. I inclose herewith a copy of my letter to him of the 21st ult., making such demand, and of his reply thereto, of the 1st inst. The views of the commissioner of railroads on Dillon's letter are expressed in his letter to me of the 8th instant, copy herewith. Because of the refusal of the company to accede to my demand for a settlement of the sum due I concur in the recommendation of the commissioner that such judicial proceedings be instituted to enforce the demand as may, in your judgment, best serve to protect the interests of the United States

THE PRIZE RING.

A Hotly Contested Glove Fight between Two San Francisco "Sluggers."

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—[Special.]—A glove fight occurred this evening between Jack McAuliff and Johnny Williams, the latter colored, for a purse of $100, which was largely attended. The men are both over six feet in height, with a marked advantage in weight in favor of Williams. Muldoon, the champion wrestler, who is matched against Donald Dennie, the famous Scotch athlete, acted as referee. The fight was conducted according to the Marquis of Queensberry rules. Both men advanced to the scratch rapidly when time was called, and after feinting for upward of a minute McAuliff led off with his right, catching Williams in the chest, and following with his left on the cheek. Williams responded with a short left-hander, receiving a stinging blow above the belt.

In the second round McAuliff opened the fight with a stinging blow, which was planted on Williams's visor. From this time until the close of the round Williams pounded his adversary all over the ring, finally driving him into a corner, and there pummeling him unmercifully, under cries of foul. The claim was disallowed, and as McAuliff was in the act of sitting down on a call of time Williams ran up and hit him a terrific right-hander, knocking him to the floor. Cries of foul were again raised, but to no effect.

At the opening of the third round McAuliff gave signs of being badly handled, and as he took his position Williams landed a swinging blow on his head, McAuliff answering weakly, and receiving a heavy counter, which sent him to the floor. While in that position Williams again struck him with both fists, notwithstanding repeated cries of foul, which the referee again refused to recognize.

When time was called for the fourth round McAuliff's backers declined to go on unless the referee was changed, and the fight was given to Williams.

CONGRESSMAN THOMPSON'S TRIAL.

HARRODSBURG, Ky., May 11.—In the trial of Phil. B. Thompson, for killing Walter H. Davis, the calling of Mrs. Bath of the St. Clair hotel at Cincinnati, by the defense, to prove the acts of Davis and Mrs. Thompson, was the signal for an objection by the commonwealth to the admissibility of all evidence of that character. Arguments followed for two hours, when the court ruled that it would admit the evidence, subject to further ruling as to its competency and the examination of Mrs. Bath proceeded.

A MURDERER HANGED.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 11.—Angelo Cornetti, the Italian murderer of Daniel Cass, a fellow convict at Sing Sing, December 31, 1881, was hanged in the prison yard this morning.

PROTESTS HIS INNOCENCE TO THE LAST.

GENESEO, Ills., May 11.—Sylvester R. Mackinson, for the murder of Mrs. Maggie Copeland near Kewanee, August 16, 1882, was hanged at Cambridge, the county seat, at 1 o'clock this afternoon. He protested his innocence and ascribed the crime to Joseph Cole.

SHOT BY A WOMAN.

MEMPHIS, May 11.—Mrs. John Ernts, widow, whose husband died in 1878, attempted to shoot Dr. H. W. Parnell, a well known physician, to-day, in the court house, claiming that he promised to marry her but refused to keep his pledge.

A LEVEE BREAKS.

NEW ORLEANS, May 11.—Reports from Kenner, La., state that the levee at Patterson place, four miles above, gave away this morning. The crevasse is fifty feet wide and ten deep.

A FRIGHTFUL DEATH.

KANKAKEE, Illinois, May 11.—[Special.]—George Shoerner met with a frightful death to-day. A team attached to a riding plow ran away, throwing him under the implement. The circular cutter cut off all his ribs close to the backbone, and the lower point tore his jaw out.

CHINA.

NOTES FROM SHANGHAI.

SHANGHAI, May 11.—Li Hung Chang has been nominated to the chief command of the southern provinces. It is doubtful whether he will accept.

The disturbances in Wee Chang have been repressed, and thirty-five of the leaders of the uprising have been beheaded.

Talmage on Opium Dens.

NEW YORK, May 11.—[Special.]—One of the startling events of the week, said Talmage in his weekly talk in Brooklyn tabernacle to-night, is the vigorous attack on opium dens of New York. The charge was led by Father Barry and the Catholic Young Men's association. It has long been a disgrace to San Francisco that with the great opium dens that she might have extirpated in a week's time, she keeps them to show to people from the Atlantic coast in evidence of the wickedness of the Chinese. I am glad Father Barry leads forth in the campaign of decency against filth. Bravo! to all newspapers, and all good people support him in this movement. The police have denied the existence of any such infamy, but the headlights of New York newspapers have been turned on these pest-houses of sin and death, and ignominy, and outrage which will be speedily hurled out of existence. What is needed in such cases is not text or moral suasion or gospel, but police clubs and Tombs court and darkest dungeon of the penitentiary. It is high time the good people of cities rise in their holy wrath and demand that drunkenness and uncleanliness and crime of all sorts quit the city limits. I hail this week's movement as one of the healthiest signs of the time. Let our American cities copy.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE.

John Kuhn of Lafayette, Ind., had a very narrow escape from death. This is his own story: "One year ago I was in the last stage of consumption. Our best physicians gave my case up. I finally got so low that our doctor said I could not live twenty-four hours. My friends then purchased a bottle of DR. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, which benefited me. I continued until I took nine bottles. I am now in perfect health, having used no other medicine."

Arrival of a fast Tobacco Train at San Francisco—Ludicrous Fight Between Two Prominent Men.

Will Inspect the Coalfields of the Northwest.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—[Special.]—R. L. Drake, a gentleman largely interested in Pennsylvania coal mines, arrived from the east this afternoon, and after spending a few weeks in the southern portion of the state will leave for Portland. During his stay in the north he will visit eastern Oregon, where certain properties have been offered the company in which he is interested, with a view to their purchase. Referring to the present immigration into Oregon and Washington territory, he stated to an OREGONIAN correspondent that laborers in the coal districts in Pennsylvania were agitating the question of moving north, and that he would not be surprised if, during the early portion of the next year a large number of miners would locate permanently in the northern coal districts. Reports of friends who had already visited those mines would induce many of them to leave the east, in hopes of obtaining increased wages.

Oregon Fir may be Used.

Following is an extract from the instructions of Capt. John Irwin, commandant at Mare island navy yard, relative to the construction of a steam propeller for the United States coast survey on this coast: "Builders on the Pacific coast may substitute for material used in the construction of the hull yellow fir or Oregon pine, a commonly used on the coast, with the exceptions of the frames at the turn of the bilge, stem, stern, propeller posts, rudder, bitts, combings, chocks, etc., which should be of white oak, mahogany or some suitable hardwood."

Novel Warfare.

[Special.]—A ludicrous fight is going on between General W. H. L. Barnes, the well known lawyer and Dr. R. H. McDonald, the temperance advocate and president of the Pacific bank. It appears that the former objected to certain windows in the house of the teetotler, which looked out upon his yard, and with a view to putting an end to what he considered an annoyance, has built a fence thirty feet high, shutting off the light from Dr. McDonald's windows, though the latter had them boarded up some time ago.

A Dishonest Postal Clerk.

Fred. E. Wright, postal clerk on the Southern Pacific railroad, was arrested last evening, charged with taking a five-dollar greenback from a letter. It is stated that the letter was put in as a decoy, irregularities being suspected. In the United States district court this morning Wright pleaded guilty, and waiving time, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment at San Quentin, being the minimum sentence.

The Wife's Earnings Case.

In the appeal case of Finnegan vs. the Hibernian bank, in which the appellant claimed that the earnings of a wife may be taken for the husband's debts, the supreme court decided otherwise, saying: "Section 168 of the civil code reads: 'The earnings of the wife are not liable for the debts of the husband.'"

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—[Special.]—The Eider sailed for Victoria and way ports, with freight and passenger list. The State of California sails for Portland to-morrow, and refused freight yesterday morning.

The St. Louis fast tobacco train, comprising eleven cars, carrying the first tobacco for this city under the new stamp law arrived last night, making a run of 533 miles in twenty-six hours and five minutes.

DEATH FROM NEURALGIA PILLS.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury in the Case of Lutie Hernsinger, the San Francisco Milliner.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—The result of the inquest held this morning, regarding the death of the young milliner, Lutie Hernsinger, was that deceased came to her death from an overdose of neuralgia pills. As has been stated, the unfortunate young girl died suddenly while in the office of Mr. Cook.

After the testimony of the deceased's mother had been taken, and that of the medical men called in, Mr. Cook testified: I reside at 332 Montgomery street; occupation, mining man. On the morning of the 28th deceased came to see a dentist, Dr. Dutch, who has an office in the same building; she came to my room about 11:30, just as I was leaving for breakfast; she saw some

APOLLINARIS WATER ON THE SIDEBOARD,

And asked for some; I told her she could take some; I then told her I was going to the Nevada restaurant for breakfast, and that she could join me; she replied she would come; she came to the restaurant about fifteen minutes after me; a few minutes later I noticed that she was taken with spasms, and I said to her, "what's the matter?" She replied, "I don't know. I found some neuralgia pills on your sideboard, and I poured out six or eight in my hand and took them." I remembered (continued Mr. Cook) that I had some of Fowler's neuralgia pills, which are very powerful, as I had tried one or two,

THE SPASMS GREW WORSE,

And I called for Dr. Ayer, who advised her to be taken home; she objected, saying she wanted to be taken to my parlors; I assented. The spasms continued until 6:30, when she expired; had known Miss Hernsinger a few months.

Chemical analysis of the stomach demonstrated the presence of strychnine and atropia; and analysis of Fowler's neuralgia and nerve pills showed that they contained strychnine and belladonna.

Replying to the coroner, Professor Wenzell stated that congestion of the lungs could be produced by strychnine and belladonna, and the jury returned a verdict as above, that death was caused by an overdose of these pills, accidentally administered by herself.

General Garcia to be Removed.

TOMBSTONE, May 11.—Prominent citizens of Tombstone express regret at the contemplated purpose of the Mexican government to remove General Lorenzo Garcia, in command of troops now in the field against the Apaches. The feeling in southern Arizona is similar, as Garcia is known and admired for his splendid record as an Indian fighter. It is thought that Garcia's agreement with Gen. Crook, regarding the latter's crossing into Mexico, is at the bottom of his removal.

Astoria Notes.

ASTORIA, Or., May 11.—[Special.]—Puffur & Co., brickmakers, lately from Virginia City, Nevada, will have a sample kiln of brick ready in a few days, from clay back of the city. Mr. Puffur has had twenty-five years' experience in brick making, and says the material on Young's river will produce brick equal to Philadelphia.

D. P. Thompson, president of the Columbia river water works, left for your city to-day. He has organized a party of workmen, who are now engaged in cutting timber and brush for the line surveyed for laying water pipes, the first installment of which were conveyed to Bear creek, the head of the water supply, to-day. The fall from the source of the supply to sea level at Astoria is 400 feet.

The Ryevale finished discharging Astoria freight to-day, and leave for Portland to-morrow.

At night armed white men proceeded to the camp, attacked the Chinese, burned their cabins, injured several badly, and killed one. The police are on the track of the whites.

SITTING BULL.

The Fallen Chief Would Sue for Sweet Peace and Pines for a Rural Existence.

STANDING ROCK AGENCY, Dakota, May 11.—[Special.]—Sitting Bull and his band arrived here Thursday from Fort Randall. They number, all told, 147. They started with 151, but four died, all men, and one was born. The party shows signs of the best treatment at the hands of the military, and are a different lot of people from the sorry Crows, who surrendered in a starving condition in 1881. The trip up has been cold and tedious, but the Indians are all in the best of spirits. From the time the boat passed the first settlement of Indians, twenty miles below here, songs of greeting were delivered at different intervals. When the boat arrived here Sitting Bull's broad form was discovered in the rear of the pilot house, conspicuous in his solitariness and a glaring blue new army overcoat. The chief looks ten years younger than when he surrendered, although as reticent as ever, and is evidently very glad to return. After the first commotion of the arrival was over a correspondent was given ample opportunity for an interview.

Sitting Bull was asked what he wanted the "iron talker" to tell the president and the burden of his reply was:

"I am not angry or ashamed of that. I am glad to be free once more and return to the place I was born to live. I want to die here, and if unmolested I will. I want to sleep in peace, plow and sow and raise all I can, I and my people. Your people (pointing to the correspondent) do not respect your president; you did not respect God, nor his Son, for you killed the Son when he came here. I could not expect you to respect me, and not take my lands (he here referred to claim jumpers on a large scale), but I want to hold the lands which belong to me." Then (in a less bitter strain): "I want peace; I wish all my enemies could come here and be reconciled, the Crows, and even the Red river half-breeds, as well as my young men and women, and many old ones who are scattered far and wide. I wish they could be gathered in one place, and all could dwell in unity with the whites, and that the whites would assist and instruct us to raise things from the earth. We were taught to live on buffalo, but I am told they are nearly all killed; I would like to have the killing stopped, if I could. I hear some talk of my going to the Grand river to farm, thirty-five miles distant. That would suit me very well; my heart is pleased. You may tell this, 'iron talker,' for me."

HERR MOST A TRAITOR.

He is Charged with Betraying His Party to the Austrian Government for Money.

ST. LOUIS, May 11.—Herr Most, the revolutionist, left this morning for Kansas City and St. Joseph. After working these towns sufficiently he will return to New York. From there he will visit California via Panama. The revolutionists who invited Most are very bitter and profess to be greatly pleased with the results of his agitation. During the week some thirty or forty members have been enrolled in two German sections, and a promising English section has been formed. It is estimated there are 150 revolutionists in full connection, and Herr Riefgarber reckons there are 600 Germans in St. Louis fully committed to revolutionary doctrines, and who will unite with the party.

HERR MOST A TRAITOR.

A correspondent at Washington lets in a little light upon the career of the agitator. He telegraphs here that a gentleman who has official knowledge of what he is talking about, said to-day that he knew some things which would show up Herr Most, the labor agitator, in an unenviable light. He declares he is an impostor and traitor to the element he pretends to champion. While here, and in various cities of this country, he was the guest of the larger organizations, receiving money in various ways for his support. This gentleman says he and certain officials of the Austrian government upon one occasion, and

DELIBERATELY MADE A BARGAIN

For a stipulated price, to be paid in money, to betray all the secrets of the working men's societies in Europe with which he was associated. His services as an informer were accepted, and he turned over to the government papers, documents and other information relative to the socialist party. A show was made of putting Most in prison to throw the public, and especially his party, off their guard, and he was kept in jail five weeks and let go with his ill gotten gold. It is alleged further that Most was not a high priced villain, and did not charge much for his treachery. He then proceeded to France and then to England, passing as a champion of the laboring people, and it is alleged, betraying them for money to other countries as he did in Austria.

GOSSIP ABOUT KEENE.

A Friend Explains Why His Rhode Island Property was Mortgaged.

NEW YORK, May 11.—[Special.]—Henry Clews, the banker who was interviewed yesterday by a reporter regarding James R. Keene's financial condition, touched upon a matter in which he did not speak by card, namely: California operators in real estate in this city. Keene did buy property at reasonable figures of the Newport savings bank, the price being $50,000. Subsequently he built greenhouses upon Bellevue avenue. A lot of these probably cost $10,000. Then he purchased and built a riding rink, which cost about $10,000 more, making a total outlay somewhere near $85,000. In December, 1881, the house was destroyed and being of brick was expensive. As stated, Keene

MORTGAGED THE REMAINING PROPERTY

For $75,000, the conditions being that he had the privilege of paying it off any time within two years. It is believed the interest is 5 per cent. Keene cannot get another dollar on the property if put into the market. In fact, one dealer said to-day he would not loan so much as $75,000 on property. It is known that some time ago Keene had plans prepared for a new house, but the architect says that he does not know why it was abandoned.

The account given yesterday of the sale by Mr. Keene of his best picture to Jay Gould excited great interest on the street, and speculation was rife as to the causes which led Keene to part with so valuable a painting. A friend of the great operator said that Keene, having no dwelling of his own,

HAD NO USE FOR THE PAINTING,

And so parted with it. He also explained why Keene mortgaged his estate at Newport. It seems that property in Rhode Island is assessed at its value if unincumbered, but if a mortgage is on it it is assessed to the amount of the mortgage. Instead, therefore, of paying taxes on $125,000, the full value of the estate, he mortgaged it to the amount of $75,000, and pays taxes only on that amount. The mortgage is therefore, according to this statement, only an accommodating one.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS.

The Goods that were Shipped to the Pacific Coast Last Week.

NEW YORK, May 11.—[Special.]—The freight market preserves all the features of quietness noted for a long time past, and there is nothing very promising for the future, notwithstanding one of the clipper agents threatens to corner the railroad by the 1st of July. The Governor Robie, for San Francisco and the Mamie M. Waite, for Portland, are both loaded and ready for sea. The latter's cargo includes 150 cs and 50 bbls of oil, 700 cs canned goods, 45 bbls whisky and a lot of railroad material. The bark Cassandra Adams had 1492 tons of coal. Rates are weaker, but not quotably lower. Tonnage is still in good supply. The Queenstown is in load at Philadelphia as she does not accept an oil charter to the east. Freights via the isthmus are quiet. The steamer house yesterday had for California account 150 bbls rosin, 26 cks chicory, 22 cs sauce, 100 kgs nails, 1000 kgs shoes, 250 bxs tin; also, for China, 814 bls sheetings.

Freights by overland routes are very quiet, and the movement is much less than usual at this season, which is generally the most quiet of the year. Shipments include 362 bbls oysters, 521 pkgs tobacco, 600 cans milk, 5 cs olive oil, 45 pkgs nuts, 50 bbls currants, 40 bxs dates, 10 cs wine, 1330 cs canned goods, 1310 kgs starch, 70 cs baking powders, 60 cs sardines, 250 bxs lemons, 80 cs sauce, 1500 kegs nails, 142 bales rope. The movement by the sunset route has been quite large, when the general quietness is considered. Figures of shipments, not complete, include 622 pkgs tobacco, 130 cs pepper sauce, 100 cs lobster, 250 bxs soap, 68 bags cocoa, 21 half chests tea, 31 cs sauce, 40 cs canned goods, 230 cs varnish, 599 pieces water pipe and a lot of dry goods.

NEW HOP FIELDS.

The new hopfields acreage in hops in King county this year is about 600 and in other parts about 400. The new acreage in the territory is just about double the old, or about 2000 acres in all.

The footing up of the city assessment roll was completed to-day. Total value of all taxable property is $5,685,513, against $3,558,720 in 1882, and $1,000,000 in 1881, a gain in two years of 450 per cent.

ENGLAND.

OPENING OF THE FISHERIES EXHIBITION.

LONDON, May 11.—The programme for the opening of the international fisheries exhibition to-morrow is as follows: Diplomatic corps, members of the ministry and exhibition authorities will assemble near the dais in the building at 12:30. The prince of Wales and sons will arrive at noon, when the royal procession, headed by the exhibition officials and followed by the foreign and colonial commissioners, will pass through the British sea fish galleries. After that the national anthem will be given with a chorus of 400 voices and a band of seventy pieces. Reaching the dais the duke of Richmond will read an address and the prince of Wales will reply in the name of the queen. The archbishop of Canterbury will deliver a special prayer and then, amid a blast of trumpets and firing of salutes, the exhibition will be declared opened.

IN THE COMMONS.

LONDON, May 11.—In the commons to-day Sir Charles Dilke, president of the local government board, denied that Spain acted in a manner to give England the right to demand the return of Gibbons.

Harding Gifford, moderate conservative, contended that there had been an absolute breach of international law, and the British consul connived at it.

Attorney General James supported the views of Dilke.

Under Foreign Secretary Fitzmaurice said it was hoped the men would soon be liberated, but the tone assumed by the tories was not likely to favorably influence the case.

THE DYNAMITE CONSPIRATORS.

LONDON, May 11.—In the Bow street police court to-day the dynamite conspiracy prisoners, except O'Connor, alias Dalton, whom the authorities are unable to connect with the others, were recommitted for trial on a charge of treason-felony. Lynch, alias Norman, the informer, was committed on a charge of misdemeanor. O'Connor was discharged, but immediately rearrested by detectives from Liverpool, where he will be taken to-night.

WILL INTRODUCE A LAND BILL.

LONDON, May 11.—The chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster introduced a bill in the commons yesterday by which agricultural tenants are entitled to receive, when their tenancies expire, compensation from landlords for improvements they may have made to the lands they occupied. This will be the principal measure brought before the house during the session. By it the landlords' right of distress will be limited to a sum equivalent to one year's rent.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

DUBLIN, May 11.—Kingston, Healy and Gibney, charged with conspiracy to murder Poole, were arraigned to-day and committed for trial. Healy was admitted to bail in £100, but bail was refused in the cases of Gibney and Kingston.

The charges on which the prisoners were committed were treason, felony, conspiracy to damage public buildings, and unlawful possession of nitro glycerine. Counsel Smyth protested that the evidence failed to connect Ansbergh with the crimes charged.

PARIS, May 11.—Judgment was rendered in the suit of Mrs. Hope against Baron DeBilling, for 100,000 francs damages, for putting forward, as heir to property left by his wife (Mrs. Hope's daughter), a boy whom he declared was the offspring of the first marriage of Madam DeBilling with Lord Came, from whom she was divorced. The judgment declares that the youth defendant put forward is not legally a son of defendant's.

MEXICO.

Fight Between Col. Torres and the Apaches.

HERMOSILLO, May 10.—Col. Torres returned last night from the Sierra Madres, where he had been pursuing the Apaches twenty days. He found them entrenched in a stronghold in the mountains, and attacked them with 300 troops. The troops flanked the hostiles, charging them in the rear at the point of the bayonet. The Indians fled, leaving eleven dead. Five soldiers were killed, and eight seriously wounded. Col. Torres says the Apaches fought savagely. They were armed with repeating rifles. Torres thinks the Indian troubles in Sonora are ended. The troops returned to Guaymas, Montezuma, and will replenish rations.

WASHINGTON.

The Feeling towards Fair.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The Post's Washington special says: The reports about the unpleasant relation of Senator Fair and wife have caused much surprise here. It had not been generally known there was trouble between them, although Mrs. Fair has spent little time in Washington. Fair had been here very little himself, but long enough to obtain a reputation as a genial gentleman, much less ostentatious in the display of his wealth than most suddenly rich men who come here from the west, and as a wholesouled gentleman. For two years his children were with him part of the winter, and the affectionate relations between them is a matter of special comment. Fair, himself was exceedingly generous, a fact which soon became known, and his usual walks to the capitol were soon obstructed by hosts of applicants.

Star Route Trial.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—In the star route trial to-day, when the hour for adjourning was reached, Wilson had disposed of three of the routes set out in the indictment. The court then said it was manifest that the argument under the present arrangement would be protracted, and counsel was therefore notified that one representative would be heard for each defendant. Defense protested against this ruling, and asserted that time would be saved by an adherence to the original rule, as counsel would not cover the same ground in their arguments. The only effect of their appeals, however, was to induce Judge Wylie to withhold until Monday formal ruling in the matter.

Adjourned until Monday.

Speculation About Raum's Successor.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—[Special.]—It is not expected by those who enjoy the president's confidence that Commissioner Raum's successor will be appointed before May 20. It is said no New York candidate is being pressed for the place and it is pretty safe to say that no Marylander will be appointed. There are two Pennsylvania candidates; one is Deputy Commissioner Rogers, and Senator Cameron's candidate is Alexander P. Fulton, formerly collector of customs at Philadelphia.

The Vacant Commissionership.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—[Special.]—The question who will be commissioner of internal revenue will, it is said, be closed before the 20th, and the belief that the president will consult his ease by taking Rogers, instead of getting into trouble, with a dozen politicians to please, is growing.

Steady Increase.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The treasury balance to-day amounts to nearly $138,000,000; showing a steady increase since the 3d inst., when the above balance was $122,000,000. The increase is due to large receipts from internal revenue since the 1st.

Resigns his Old Office.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Charles Lyman to-day tendered his resignation as chief clerk of the United States treasury office, and subsequently took the oath of office as chief examiner under the civil service commission. He will enter upon his new duties to-morrow.

The Temporary Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—John J. Knox, comptroller, entered upon temporary duties as acting commissioner of internal revenue to-day. He says that Deputy Commissioner Rogers will virtually have full charge of the business of the office.

National Bank for Port Townsend.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The comptroller of the currency has authorized the First National bank of Port Townsend, Washington territory, to begin business with a capital of $50,000.

The "Times" on California Railroad Monopoly.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The Times, under the head "The Triumph of Monopoly," reviews editorially the history of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad. It says the great railway monopoly of California is very naturally unwilling to allow any rival road to reach the Pacific coast from the east, and has thus far been successful in opposing the progress of the only line which threatened to become troublesome. It is reported that the victory of the monopolists has been confirmed in an agreement under which the Atlantic and Pacific is not to be permitted to extend its lines to the coast or to San Francisco until twenty years hence. The agreement preserves the Pacific slope monopoly intact. The little group of men who control the railroads by which California is connected with the east, submit to maintain their monopoly forever. The rapid developments of the far west will bring them into conflict with stronger forces than the Atlantic and Pacific Company, but many years must pass before the people of the Pacific slope can get relief.

THE KOOTENAI RAILWAY.

Proposed Building of Transportation Lines Along the Upper Columbia.

Walla Walla Union.

From Hon. R. L. T. Galbraith, member of the provincial parliament, we learn that the bill granting John C. Ainsworth of California, George J. Ainsworth of Portland, and E. W. Blande, of Oakland, California, and their associates, the right to build, equip and maintain a continuous line of railway from the outlet of Kootenai lake through the Selkirk range of mountains to a point on the Columbia river as near as practicable to the junction of the Kootenai with the Columbia river in British Columbia; also a line of steamers suitable for passenger and freight traffic and other vessels, upon the Columbia river to and fro, from the point on the Columbia river where the Columbia and Kootenai railway from Kootenai lake terminates, to that point on the west bank of the Columbia river where the Canadian Pacific railway shall strike the said river and cross the same near the Eagle Pass. In consideration of the undertaking assumed by the company the government of British Columbia grants to it all alternate sections of land on each side of the routes, proposed to be navigated by the company's steamers and over which the railway shall pass, provided the aggregate amount of the grant shall not exceed 750,000 acres. This line will open to settlement a large body of rich agricultural and mineral lands. The Columbia and Kootenai Railway and Transportation Company own several rich galena mines on the eastern shore of Kootenai lake, which body of water they will navigate with their steamers, connecting this lake with Arrow Head lakes by a railroad forty miles in length. The Arrow Head lakes will be navigated by steamers for a distance of 100 miles, from which place connection will be made with the Canadian Pacific by rail. The capital of this company is $3,000,000.

An English syndicate of capitalists have also succeeded in passing a bill granting to them a lease of 150,000 acres of swamp and submerged lands situated between the Idaho boundary and lake Kootenai, which they propose reclaiming by building a canal several miles in length and changing the channel of the Kootenai river. After reclaiming they will purchase the lands and throw the same open for settlement.

Port Moody has been definitely located as the western terminus of the Canadian Pacific railway. A syndicate will soon begin the erection of wharves, shops round houses, etc., at the point.

Railway reserve lands are about being thrown open to settlement, and the provincial government has employed an immigrant agent with a view of settling unoccupied lands.

Major Rogers of the Canadian Pacific, now has five parties exploring, surveying and locating the line through the Selkirk range. The supplies for these parties will, for the present, be purchased in Walla Walla and Portland. The road has been definitely located via Kicking Horse pass, Moberly creek and Eagle pass.

H. M. McCartney, the well known civil engineer, has been appointed chief engineer of the C. & K. R. R. & T. Co., and will commence operations with a force of men in the near future.

It affords me pleasure to inform you that after using Dr. C. These pills do the work—do it promptly, do it well, and leave no ill effects behind. As a bile remover, as a liver corrector, as a forerunner preparing the system for other remedies, there is no pill or medicine equal to Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills. I expect to use them as long as I live, if they continue as good as they have been in the past.

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 12, 1883.

SAN FRANCISCO AND THE NORTH.

There is said to be unusual business activity in San Francisco. It is claimed that business there is on a better foundation than at any time for years. Stress of disaster from speculation in mining stocks is passing away. Attention is being paid to legitimate business and solid values. Evidence of this is presented in the appearance of the streets, which are less crowded with idlers and more with the movement of actual business. The great crowds which formerly blocked up the leading thoroughfares about Montgomery, California and Pine streets, to watch the fluctuations of the stock market or share its risks and excitements, have nearly vanished. All the industrial establishments are full of work, most of them have orders ahead and new establishments are springing up in lines of industry which hitherto have not been developed.

As the central point of the commerce of the Pacific slope San Francisco naturally shows the prosperity now prevailing throughout this large section of country. The increasing business activity of this city responds to the growth of the vast country so largely tributary to it. Our own section—the northwest—contributes its full share to the growing energy of the chief city of the Pacific coast. Indeed, it may be said without exaggeration that San Francisco's best trade is in this quarter. Many business men of that city are aware that the completion of our independent railroad system will produce great changes in the course of northwestern trade; and from the standpoint of their own interest they can by no means be indifferent to the results thus foreshadowed. We can trade with the east on just as good terms as San Francisco can; and the advantage which that city will possess will consist only in its magnitude as a depot of commerce, in the extent of its manufacturing industries and in the influence always exerted by the largest city of any region or locality in drawing business to itself as a center of consumption, production [illegible]

Ex-Governor Thomas A. Hendricks, the great democratic headlight of Indiana, has been interviewed again in the capitol city of his state to enable him to correct what he is reported to have said on the tariff question in New York. His revised opinion is reported in these words: "My opinion is that revenue should be the object of any tariff, but that in the adjustment of the details the business interests of the country should be considered. There must be a tariff for revenue, but not for revenue only." This is lucid. Like the schoolmaster who was prepared to teach that the earth was round or flat, as the directors might prefer, Mr. Hendricks is ready to give the voters of his party protection or anti-protection, as they may elect. He appears to be perched a little higher than usual in his customary seat on the fence. He is for a tariff for revenue with a but, and likewise for protection with a but. This is to be the position of the party in the next national contest.

Ohio democratic leaders have taken a purely negative position on the liquor question. They have arrayed themselves against the repeal of the anti-license clause of the constitution, against the taxation of saloons, and against the proposition to amend the constitution so that the legislature may regulate the traffic. That is getting on the side of the whisky interest, if not avowedly yet in practical effect.

The Chinaman has carried his vices with him to the east, and opium dens are now numerous in Chicago and New York. Opium smoking has come to be a great evil in the former place and the papers are devoting many columns to the effort to weed out the dens.

A BLUNDER CORRECTED.

It may be of interest to know why it was that Mr. Keim was dismissed from the position of chief examiner for the civil service commission. The simple truth is, he is a machine politician, and nothing else. His selection for the place was a very unfortunate act, and the severe and general criticism of the press has forced the commission to undo it. If the civil service act is to amount to anything, its administration must be in the hands of men who believe in it and who will try to render it effective rather than to make it a farce. Herein is the justification of Keim's removal. President Arthur has taken a stand which shows that his heart is in the work which the commission has been organized to accomplish.

Mr. Keim is a politician of Pennsylvania. This fact in itself might almost be taken as a revelation of his unfitness for the place to which he was appointed. He has been somewhat conspicuous in that state, and has owed his distinction to the fact that his services have always been given to the machine. His connections, political, social and professional, have always been with the common element. His appointment was a surprising one; but good has already come out of it, since, in correcting their blunder, the commissioners have evinced a disposition to make the law what it was intended to be.

THE HOG TROUBLE.

Europe is protesting against the American hog on the same principle that America protests against Chinese labor. It is merely a measure of self-protection on the part of Germany and France, not for sanitary but for commercial reasons. The German and French farmers cannot compete with us in the matter of hog raising. Soil is expensive there while it is cheap here. Mr. Wilson, the American consul at Nantes, in a recent report, gave a very clear insight into the whole question. In Europe, he says, hogs cannot roam around and feed on roots and acorns, corn, grass and rye, as they do here, but must be kept in their pens and fed on peas, beans, and mash of various kinds. Food and soil are both cheaper here, and it stands to reason that the hog itself is, too. Whereas, in Germany and France, a pound of pork costs all the way from twelve to thirty five cents, here it averages less than one-half that price. So that, after adding the cost of transportation, middlemen's profits, etc., American pork still considerably undersells the home product in those foreign markets, if no embargo is placed upon it. Not being able to compete with the American pork dealers, the German hog producers want protection, and by the prohibitory measures adopted by their government they got it. And that is all there is about it.

It is said that France is ruled by the army, and in developing her military power to the utmost the republic may be nourishing a monster which will work her ruin. The total available force, including the territorial reserve, is believed to be 3,000,000 men, or nearly one-twelfth of the entire population. The announcement of a credit of $1,000,000 to send an expedition against Tonquin indicates that France really intends to gratify the warlike spirit of her people by undertaking a conflict in which China will assist Annam to make a defense. Germany has even more soldiers than France, Russia has about the same number, Austria has half as many, and Italy has nearly as many as Austria, and the whole European force will be restless when they see French soldiers in action. The great powers ought to agree to each take 1,000,000 men out of their armies and put them to useful work in private life.

It is specially unfortunate just now when arrangements are making to establish a market for Oregon fruit in the east that the crop should turn out badly, as there seems no doubt it will. Still, a half crop here means more than a full crop in many of the eastern states, and it is hoped that what we have will be of the usual good quality. A set-back is annoying, but it can be only a set-back. In the end fruit is bound to be one of the best and most profitable crops of Oregon and Washington.

The fancy prices paid in this market for fat stock during the past few months ought to encourage the farmers of the Willamette valley to stall-feed a few cattle each year. A band of seventeen steers was sold to a Portland butcher a few days ago for $1600; and doubtless there have been many similar transactions. Much of the fresh beef consumed in this city since January 1st has been brought up from California by steamer.

If any one wants to know all about the tornadoes that recently swept over the southern states, he will have to consult the New York Herald's weather map. That paper makes the storm that caused the tornado start on the Oregon coast, and it follows it right through to the places where it did its worst work of devastation.

An incident of the factional war among the democrats of Ohio is presented in the fact that the Cincinnati Enquirer, which opposes Pendleton, is pushing Gen. Denver for the presidency.

The president, it is said, is going on another fishing trip. This time he will visit his old sporting fields in northern New York, far away from the pestiferous malaria.

The Mail and Express says that it is not so much Mr. Newton as the Episcopal church which is on trial.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.

Professor J. Borra proposes to introduce in Portland the system of musical instruction which has been pursued in the musical conservatories of Europe for the past four years with great success. The method is so simple and comprehensive that after six months close application a student of ordinary ability may expect to be able to commence singing operas and classical music at sight. It is not a superficial process, but gives a thorough knowledge of music, mechanically. More can be accomplished by this method in six months than by three years under other methods. It places a thorough musical education within the reach of all, and it is applicable to all musical instruments precisely as it is written, without any changes whatever. Professor B. only asks that the musical people of Portland shall examine his method of teaching this term in East Portland on Tuesday and Friday at 7:30 o'clock P. M., at Young Men's Christian Association room; then he has no fear of any adverse judgment as to his merit. Call at his residence, at present southeast corner Fifth and Washington streets, Portland.

GIVE THE BOY A CHANCE.—George D Chan[illegible], the youthful scapegrace who was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of larceny for stealing some rolls of butter on Captain Flanders' wharf some time ago will probably be allowed to escape a trial. It is the proposition of his uncle to take him back to his native state, Maine, if allowed to go at liberty. This chance to escape a term in the penitentiary and the evil influence of its inmates should not be denied the young boy, who does not appear to have a depraved nature.

ODD FELLOWS' REUNION.—At the social meeting of Odd Fellows at the temple to-night short addresses will be made by prominent brethren. Members are expected to bring their wives and lady friends. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock. There was a full attendance at Hassalo lodge last night, many brethren from Washington territory who had returned from the grand lodge at Seattle, being in attendance. A good number will remain here and take part in the Orphans' Home corner stone laying next Thursday.

ANOTHER CHINESE THEATER.—[illegible] lot on the west side of Second street, between Taylor and Yamhill, has been leased to the Ding Company, a Chinese association which will proceed to erect thereon a brick building in the basement of which will be two stores with a gambling house in the rear, while the upper story will be used as a theater. The parties desiring to rent the theater and gambling house were so anxious to secure a lease that they advanced $3000 cash each on account.

LOST, STOLEN OR STRAYED.—On Thursday afternoon a tall well dressed young man, evidently from the country, drove up to Dyer's blacksmith shop, at the corner of Main and Second streets and left his team standing while a slight job of repairing was done to his wagon. He did not come back and Mr Dyer late in the evening took the team to a stable. Nothing had been seen of the young man up to 6 o'clock last evening and Mr Dyer is fearful that some harm has befallen him.

ADMITTED TO PARTNERSHIP.—Yesterday Charles F Crowell, for the past five years head traveling salesman for M. Seller & Co, was admitted into the firm of Charles Hegele & Co, which firm will hereafter be known as Hegele, Crowell & Co. What Mr Crowell does not know about selling crockery and glassware is not worth knowing. He has the confidence of the trade of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, is an honest intelligent business man and will make a valuable addition to the firm.

DANGEROUS BONFIRE.—A fire was lighted about 7:30 yesterday morning in the boards and rubbish left from tearing down the old buildings on Dekum's corner, Third and Washington streets and left with nobody to watch it. By 9:30 it had gained such headway as to endanger the adjacent buildings. No. Three's engine went over and played on the blaze until it was under control. More care should be exercised with fires in this dry weather or disastrous results may occur.

GRAND CAMP, P. O. S. OF A.—C. B. McLaughlin, a prominent member of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, was, at the recent session of the district convention held in East Portland, elected national representative to attend the session of the grand camp at Beach Haven, New Jersey, next June. Beach Haven is a very pretty seaside resort and America's patriotic sons, with their wives and daughters, will undoubtedly have a first-class time this summer.

GETTING OUT.—A large number of Chinese have been in the city for some time awaiting employment. Yesterday 100 left by the O. R. & N. railroad for Pendleton to go to work on the Baker city branch for Kwong Tai & Co. Several gangs will go down on the Kalama extension to-day and still there is room. The collectors of poll tax who have made inroads on the purses of Chinese for some time have let up, to the great relief of the Celestials.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.—Thomas M. Leahy, one of the accountants in the Northern Pacific auditor's office, was riding last Sunday in a dog cart and was so severely jolted that he was prostrated immediately after he returned home. Symptoms indicate that he received serious internal injury and there is probably internal hemorrhage. Yesterday the trouble was aggravated by high fever, and his condition gives rise to alarm.

OPEN TEMPERANCE MEETING.—The interest in the meetings of the Portland Temperance Association, at the Y. M. C. A. hall, Saturday nights, is on the increase. Last Saturday night by the time the audience was all in, there was not a vacant seat in the hall. To-night Rev A. L. Lindsley, D. D., will address the meeting and there will be other interesting exercises, as usual. The meeting is free and all are invited.

CARRIER PIGEONS.—This journal is indebted to Sergeant M. L. Hearne, in charge of the signal office here, for a copy of a "Memoir on the Use of Homing Pigeons for Military Purposes," prepared under the direction of General W. B. Hazen, chief signal officer of the army. It is an exhaustive practical treatise of the subject.

HIGH SCHOOL EXERCISES

The regular Friday afternoon exercises at the high school yesterday were very interesting. The first division made its last appearance for the term and acquitted itself in a very gratifying manner. AMUSEMENTS.

"QUEEN ELIZABETH."—Mrs Bates' benefit at New Market last night drew a large and fashionable audience. The play gave scope for the display of greater power than is offered by Lady Isabel or Camille, and Mrs Bates presented a really grand Queen Elizabeth. The quarrel between the queen and Essex (Mr Aveling) was a splendid scene and richly merited the enthusiastic call to the footlights. In the scene where the death warrant is signed Mrs Bates fairly surpassed herself, and electrified her audience. The ensemble was all that could be desired. "Queen Elizabeth" will be repeated to-night, and merits a packed house. This afternoon "East Lynne."

SALEM NOTES

FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT

SALEM, May 11

John Kelly of the firm of Kelly, Dunne & Co. of your city paid Salem a flying visit to-day. Colonel Drake of Portland is here on a business trip. W. O. Parrish's express wagon took a lively spin from the depot down Court street at the heels of a spirited animal and was badly demoralized in consequence thereof.

The local committee appointed to arrange for the forthcoming state firemen's tournament are negotiating for the services of the second brigade band of Dallas for that occasion with indications of success. It is considered one if not the best brass bands in the state at the present time and in their new and attractive uniforms will prove an important feature.

Prof Z. M. Parvin has just forwarded the manuscript of the two songs to be sung during commencement week at Willamette university to Wiley B. Allen, publisher of music at Portland. "The End Crowns the Work" is the title of one respectfully dedicated to Thos. Van Scoy. The names of the Conservatory and Literary graduates will be on the title page. "The College Train" is the title of the other respectfully inscribed to Rev Isaac Dillon of Seattle and dedicated to the Academy Class of Willamette university.

The Salem board of trade met last evening and transacted a large amount of routine business. The organization now numbers something over fifty members and is entering upon its work with a view of accomplishing good results by a concentration of action. The committee appointed to confer with Mr Stuart relative to the erection of a woolen mill in this city reported progress and requested further time before submitting their final report which was granted, and Col. C. A. Reed made an additional member of such committee. Hon J. J. Murphy, C. B. Moores and Frank E. Hodgkin were appointed a committee to revise the constitution and by-laws preparatory to their being printed in pamphlet form.

THE LAPPEUS INVESTIGATION

It is Decided that the Committee Visit the Penitentiary and take the Testimony of Carrie Bradley.

The committee appointed to investigate the charges preferred against Chief of Police Lappeus met again in the council chamber at 10 a. m. yesterday forenoon. The members of the committee were all present except Mayor Chapman, who says he is not a member of the committee, as the records do not show that he was so appointed. Mr Jerry, Mr and Mrs Thompson and Mr Bower representing the complainants were present, also Chief Lappeus and his counsel Mr Gleason.

After a good deal of discussion with regard to making a trip to Salem to take the testimony of Carrie Bradley the committee finally settled upon Tuesday afternoon next as the time to go to Salem.

Mr Bower—I have requested Constable Simmons to go with me to assist in taking the testimony, as he is familiar with what she has already stated on the subject. He did not want to be connected with this investigation at all, but I finally prevailed upon him to go.

Judge Adams—I do not suppose we can prevent any one going and see no objections.

Counsel for the other side offered no objections.

Mr Bower stated that there were only two witnesses he wished summoned, one was Councilman Honeyman and the other a driver of a baker's wagon.

The chairman stated that the committee would hold its next meeting, after returning from Salem, on Thursday next at 10 o'clock.

Mr Gleason asked Mr Bower if he would be ready then to complete his case.

Mr Bower thought he would, as he was anxious to get through at the earliest possible date.

The committee then adjourned.

A SUGGESTION WITH A POINT TO IT

PORTLAND, Oregon, May 11

To the Editor of THE OREGONIAN

Now that Deputy Postmaster Chittenden has resigned and there seems to be some reason to hope that there will be an official investigation of the affairs of this office, would it not be well for the business men of this town to tender Mr Chittenden some evidence of their appreciation of his fifteen years service in this responsible position and to join in recommending him for the position of postmaster should there ever come a time when the department at Washington or the president should deem it better to have a postmaster instead of a politician to run this office.

Our new Postmaster General, Judge Gresham, is said to have some idea of trying to conduct his department on business principles, and if he has there is a good place for him to begin in Portland, Oregon. A B

To the Editor of THE OREGONIAN

I having been indirectly connected with the investigation of Chief Lappeus and am called upon now to accompany the committee to Salem where the evidence of Bradley is to be taken, deem it my duty to inform the mayor, common council and the public that I am not a candidate for the office of chief of police.

I also take this opportunity of thanking my friends for the interest they manifested in my behalf. SAMUEL SIMMONS

ANNUAL REVIEW

Of the First Presbyterian Church of this City

The session of the church submits to the presbytery of Oregon the following narrative of the state of religion in the congregation for the year ending March 31, 1883:

[illegible]

Mission work was resumed at [illegible] last spring [illegible] a sabbath school [illegible] the First Presbyterian church of East Portland. This was done September 17 with the co-operation of Rev D. O. Chormley, who is now minister in charge, and Rev E. P. Lee, minister of Calvary church, Portland.

Last fall a survey was taken in north Portland, with a view to opening a sabbath school. A large number of children were found who were not attending any sabbath school. But as there was no building available to accommodate the school it was deemed advisable to postpone the erection of one until spring. This good work will soon be resumed.

Some examination of Albina a few months ago developed the fact that that place is destitute of the public ordinances of religion and presents an open field for missionary effort.

The number added to the membership during the year is 34, baptisms 14, deaths 4. Total number of communicants 550, sabbath school membership 275.

The following sums are an approximation of the funds contributed:

Home missions	$1,300 00
Foreign missions	364 00

THE BRIDGE.

An Important Letter by a Well Known Engineer.

Objections to the Bridge Considered, Together with Statement of Views as to Portland's Position.

PORTLAND, May 10, 1883.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I am in receipt of your request for my opinion of the effect to be produced on the business interests of Portland by the construction of a bridge across the Willamette, below the city, as proposed by Mr. Villard. While I am flattered with the invitation, I experience, for reasons that I cannot properly state, no little diffidence in approaching the subject. Nevertheless, as my opinions are worth just the value of the reasons I give for them, I shall make the attempt to discuss the problem fairly, premising that you have made this request, not because of any peculiar facilities I have for stating the question, but because you have faith in my disposition to treat the subject impartially and from a purely scientific standpoint.

Mr. Villard's opinion of the effect of a bridge below the warehouses is well known, since he made no secret of it when he purposed locating those warehouses at the upper end of the town. He brought all his power to bear against that enterprise that was necessary to crush it, and it was crushed.

It does not qualify that action to say now, what was not said then, that the bridge was not a "proper" bridge to build. It was opposed because it was a bridge, and so an obstacle to the navigation of the river. Mr. Villard and his associates were quite right in that opposition.

They understand the ships could not pass a drawbridge without increased risk and, therefor, in increased cost. The time in such an operation for a [illegible] sailing vessel does not count. Mr. Villard expected to load his steamers at the railroad terminus, and it was essential to them, as steamers making time between this port and San Francisco, to [illegible] every hour as well as every class of risk.

This is sufficient as showing the opinions of Mr. [illegible] and his friends concerning the expediency of building a bridge on the Willamette river between the ocean and the shipping business of the city.

[illegible] had [illegible] attention. There does not exist in all the world a "low-down" bridge between the ocean highway and the commercial part of a [illegible] city. Wherever a bridge has been built [illegible] leading up from the high seas it has been [illegible] the head of ocean navigation, or its [illegible] has changed the seat of commercial [illegible] above the bridge and forced the heavy [illegible] to locate below.

[illegible] American ports, Boston is a city of [illegible] but her harbor, above these works, has [illegible] to the smaller craft of the coast.

Of a population of [illegible] in the United States about 53,950,000 [illegible] willing that Portland should sink as that [illegible]

The people of the interior have a broad choice. [illegible] understand perfectly well that if every port is [illegible], as it should be, they (the people of the interior) will get the cheapest possible outlet [illegible] world beyond.

In this way every port is put on its mettle. But the whole region of our northwest is interested in the prosperity of this city. It is their natural [illegible]. It is the nearest port to the heart of the [illegible], and a great town with concentration of capital where merchants meet in lively competition, [illegible] cheaper goods to its customers than can re- [illegible] from the diffusion of capital over three or four [illegible] depots, by which means competition is [illegible]

For this reason men go the whole width of the [illegible] to buy goods in New York.

[illegible] I have not been tedious in treating the question you put before me and that I may have [illegible] some little benefit to this promising city,

Respectfully ALFRED F. SEARS, C. E.

[illegible] S. R. Britton says: "As a rule physicians do [illegible], by their professional methods, build up the female constitution, while they seldom cure the diseases to which it is always liable in our variable climate and under our imperfect civilization. Special remedies are often required to restore organic harmony and strengthen the enfeebled powers of womanhood: a d[illegible] for most of these we are indebted to persons outside of the medical profession. Among the very best of these remedies I assign a prominent place to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

Another Pacific Railroad.

CHICAGO, May 11.—A morning paper prints the following: It is stated by a well posted insider that matters of great importance are brewing in the management of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway. About six weeks ago S. S. Merrill, general manager of the line, with members of his family and several friends, among them certain well posted eastern capitalists, started from Milwaukee in a special car for San Francisco. They traveled through the west over the Union Pacific, Central Pacific, Southern Pacific, Mexican Central, Denver and Rio Grande, Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, Atlantic and Pacific and other roads, and only returned last week.

In an interview with a Herald correspondent, Merrill said he returned well pleased with the west and its grand resources. It is now learned that there is little doubt that the purpose of Merrill's visit to the west, and particularly to California, was the building of another extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul to San Francisco, and active competition with the Union Pacific, Burlington, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific routes. It is known that this road is now engaged in extending their line to Deadwood and the track is laid far into Dakota. It would take little more to build it on to the Pacific coast. It is stated that Merrill, while west, examined the country to see where the best paying route from Deadwood west could be located and that he canvassed the chances for such extension among western railway men. He is said to have consulted while in San Francisco with prominent Pacific coast capitalists as to the prospect of their taking the bonds of the new line. There are said to be several big eastern capitalists at present holders of St. Paul stocks and bonds in the scheme. The matter will excite much comment and discussion on all sides. Merrill has never been a week away from his duties before since his connection with the St. Paul road, and hence importance attached to the matter.

"John" in New York.

NEW YORK, May 11.—When the Herald of yesterday and to-day reaches San Francisco there will probably be some unseemly but natural exultation in the anti Chinese party. "Now the east will know how it is themselves," will be the general remark and it will be met without the slightest traces of sympathy. Well there is similarity in the cases, and in New York, as in San Francisco the general public and its officials are almost as guilty as the Chinese. The incursion of any large body of people made up of men of low moral and intellectual grade, and disposed to herd together, is something that no city or country can afford to leave unheeded. Where there are several hundred of the commonest Americans together in a single quarter, a single street, or at most a single square of a Chinese city, allowed to do just as they pleased so long as they refrained from robbing or murdering the natives, the moral average of the neighborhood would be lowered with great rapidity. San Francisco allowed and still allows the vilest of her Chinese population to cluster together and considers their unclean doings one of the sights that no stranger should neglect, and New York has followed her example and suffered the inevitable insults. In any European city the vicious portion of a colony of aliens could be continually under police surveillance. In New York the police seem to inspire terror only as blackmailers.

The "World's" New Principles.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The World, under its new management, announces its political platform. The following is an extract: "To-day we are confronted by a struggle in different guise. Organized privilegists, coveting and possessing exclusive rights under the ægis of chartered monopolism, undermine our political freedom now more than 100 years ago. It is for true democracy to preserve political freedom now as it established political freedom in former days. To this duty the World is pledged."

ALL ABOUT JIM KEENE.

Talk and Gossip about his Property and his Financial Status.

NEW YORK, May 11.—A reporter sought to confirm the report of the sale of the picture of Mr. Keene. Keene could not be found by the reporter, but he is said to be very much incensed at these reports which have been circulated about him, and to deny most emphatically all statements reflecting on his financial standing. Henry Clews, however, who was seen by the reporter, and said he knew Keene had disposed of a picture to Gould through the agency of John Pondir. Clews has a fine collection of paintings himself and is authority on such subjects among members of the exchange. His office in New street is crowded with paintings and his home in Fortieth street is almost a gallery of fine arts. Clews said the picture disposed of was a noted one. Its subject is a cattle scene, and the artist is the famous painter of cattle, Rosa Bonheur. Mr. Clews said that the price paid for this picture by Mr. Keene about a year and a half ago was $24,000. Mr. Pondir has been trying to negotiate the sale for some time and finally disposed of it to Mr. Gould for $16,000, a sacrifice on the price of $8000. Mr. Clews, however, expressed his belief in the financial stability of Mr. Keene, and said that nobody believed the reports of his being on the verge of bankruptcy. The only ground for such reports was the fact that Keene has recently mortgaged his property in Newport and has just disposed of this famous picture. Clews is a neighbor of Keene at Newport, and he related how the latter obtained his estate there. It was shortly after the panic of 1873, when real estate took a tumble, and Keene obtained the property at a bargain, paying, in fact, only $40,000 for a most desirable estate, convenient and beautifully located. Some years ago the mansion burned down. It was Mr. Keene's intention to rebuild, but he neglected to do so. A short time ago he mortgaged the property for $75,000, which shows how rapidly real estate has advanced at Newport. Mr. Clews says the property, though the original dwelling is destroyed, must be worth $125,000. Keene lives in gentlemen's quarters in West Tenth street, elegantly but moderately. The sale of his most valuable picture, and the mortgaging of his Newport estate, Clews says, may be evidences of lack of ready cash, but they are not proofs of his impending financial collapse, as has been reported.

Mr. Washington E. Connor, Mr. Gould's broker, said: "We have been in several fights against Keene, and I would be likely to hear of his impending bankruptcy, if such was the fact. The reports have doubtless been put in circulation by his enemies, of whom he has many, but I have no confidence in them. Keene is a very shrewd operator, more shrewd than many persons give him credit for. He is still entering his fast horses in English races, and is still engaged in large stock operations. He has a large interest, about $600,000, in the Tide Water Pipe Line Co., of which I am stockholder. All this does not look like bankruptcy. The sale of the picture does not indicate that he is in need of money to keep afloat. Several brokers have recently cautioned me against dealing with Keene, giving the reason that his old broker, Babcock, no longer did business for him; but that does not mean anything. Keene and Babcock have several times had fallings out, but in a month or so Mr. Keene has again been seen doing business through his old brokers. I don't think Keene has transferred his interest in the Tide Water Pipe Line Company. If he had I should certainly have heard of it."

An old and prominent broker said that it was the general impression on the street that Mr. Keene, though perfectly solvent, is very much in need of ready money, and that this impression has deepened into conviction since the colossal speculator has mortgaged his home and sold his noted picture. Mr. Keene, he said, came into Wall street with a fortune of $3,000,000, made in mining stocks in California. He became a wild and erratic speculator in almost every commodity. About two years ago he was heavily loaded with stocks, was engaged in wheat and land deals, was continuing his mining operations and was even dealing in opium and other articles of which he knew nothing.

The recent fall in prices wiped out a large part of his fortune. He lost in Jersey Central and he has now large holdings, but he can only realize from them just as he has from the sale of his picture. I have it on good authority that he is now trying to dispose of his interest in the Tide Water Pipe Company. Of course he is entirely solvent, but he is in need of ready money. He owes Babcock, his former broker, and other houses, of course on ample security. This fact is interesting, because it shows that the famous operator is not so strong as he once was. His friends say he is growing very irritable in consequence of his ill-luck.

The World, speaking of Mr. Keene's sale of his painting by Rosa Bonheur to Jay Gould says: There is no disguising the fact that Mr. Keene is the subject of a great deal of gossip on the street just now. Nor is this gossip confined to Wall street. Yesterday private dispatches were received, it is said, from Chicago, making inquiries relative to Mr. Keene and saying that it was rumored that the great speculator had been losing heavily of late and that his immense fortune was rapidly melting away. In view of these reports it was thought significant that Mr. Keene had disposed of a great painting at a sacrifice, and one that he had purchased only a little over a year ago.

O. H. Messerdorfer was scared Thursday evening by a fire near the new dwellings in the northern part of the city. He found the cause to be a number of boys amusing themselves burning up the refuse timber in the vicinity of the buildings. He dispatched the boys and doused the fire, and probably thereby saved himself the pleasure of seeing a brilliant termination to the brief existence of his buildings.

IT WOULDN'T DO.

Through a Habit of Keeping his Eyes Open a Gentleman is Protected from a Small Swindle.

"Thanks, my little daughter, you did the errand very quickly and nicely," said the head of a certain pleasant house in Thirty-fourth street, opening a diminutive package the child had just placed in his hand. "But, see here, Mamie, this isn't what I sent you for—this is not BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER at all, but some cheap imitation of it. It is not as neat as the genuine, and it hasn't got the word CAPCINE cut in the middle. You must have made a mistake, darling."

"No I didn't, papa, no I didn't," answered the bright little eight-year-old, eagerly defending herself. "I asked the drug man down here on the corner for BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER. I told him the whole of the long name, exactly as you told it to me, and then I gave him the twenty-five cents you gave me to pay for it with, and he took this out of a box and told me to run home with it. I didn't make any mistake, papa, I didn't indeed"—half ready to cry.

"All right, Mamie, on your part," said the father, kindly. "I think I can see through this business. In the language of the reporters, I guess I'll go out myself and 'interview' that drug man, as you call him."

SCENE II. FIVE MINUTES LATER.—"Mr. Gamboge, I sent my little girl to your store just now for one of BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS. Didn't you understand what she wanted?"

"Oh, yes, I understood her, but—"

"But what?" indignantly. "But what? If you understood her, why in heaven's name, sir, didn't you send the right article?"

"I beg pardon. I meant no offense, but we are out of Benson's plasters to-day. Sold the last one this morning, and I thought what I sent would answer as well, and so—"

"There, that'll do, that'll do. Please remember that when I send for a thing I want that and nothing else. When I desire you to exercise your judgment I'll let you know. Here's your cheap and worthless substitute. Be good enough to refund my money, and I'll try somebody else in your line who is not addicted to small swindles."

All druggists are not like Gamboge, but precaution is always wisdom.

THE BAD AND WORTHLESS

Are never imitated or counterfeited. This is especially true of a family medicine, and it is positive proof that the remedy IMITATED is of the highest value. As soon as it had been tested and proved by the whole world that Hop Bitters was the purest, best and most valuable family medicine on earth, many imitations sprung up and began to steal the notices in which the press and people of the country had expressed the merits of H. B., and in every way trying to induce suffering invalids to use their stuff instead, expecting to make money on the credit and good name of H. B. Many others started nostrums put up in similar style to H. B., with variously devised names in which the word "Hop" or "Hops" were used in a way to induce people to believe they were the same as Hop Bitters. All such pretended remedies or cures, no matter what their style or name is, and especially those with the word "Hop" or "Hops" in their name, or in any way connected with them or their name, are imitations or counterfeits. Beware of them. Touch none of them. Use nothing but genuine Hop Bitters, with a bunch or cluster of green Hops on the white label. Trust nothing else. Druggists and dealers are warned against dealing in imitations or counterfeits.

THESE BELTS CURE DISEASES THAT MEDicine aggravates and makes worse. It fills the blood with Electricity; its power strengthens the entire body. This modern improved belt speedily restores the debilitated, weak and emaciated system to full health, but it enhances in both sexes the pleasures of life, sexually, mentally and physically. It grapples with disease, and overcomes it by transforming electricity into the weakened life forces, and thus restoring health and vigor. Whenever any debility of the generative organs occurs, it is whatever cause, the conditions stream of ELECTRICITY permeating through the parts must restore them to healthy action. There is no mistake about this instrument. Years of use have tested it, and thousands of cures are certified to. Weakness from indiscretion, incapacity, lack of vigor, sterility—in fact, any troubles of these organs are cured. It also conducts electricity all over the outside of the body, thus removing all external ailments of nerve and muscles arising from disease.
